ILSI SOUTHEAST ASIA REGION RECOGNITION 2014

Dr. Leon Gorris, is hereby recognized for his outstanding and valuable contributions to ILSI SEA Region.

Dr. Leon Gorris is Director for Regulatory Affairs in North Asia for Unilever R&D Shanghai, China, where he has resided since 2010. He undertook many key roles since joining Unilever in 1998, both in The Netherlands and the UK, where he sought to strengthen risk-based safety management approaches for Unilever consumer product innovations, aligned to governmental developments in modern approaches to risk-based safety evaluations. Prior to joining Unilever, Dr. Gorris has served in the Ministry of Agriculture of The Netherland and held part-time professorship and as European Chair in Food Safety Microbiology at the University of Wageningen, Netherlands. He is also a visiting professor at Shanghai Ocean University and China Agricultural University in Beijing.

Dr. Gorris joined the Board of ILSI SEA Region in 2010 upon his appointment in Asia, and has served as Hon Secretary for the past term as well as Chair of ILSI SEA Region's Food and Water Safety Cluster and its Microbiology Task Force. However, his involvement with ILSI and ILSI SEA Region preceded his arrival in Asia, where he contributed to the ILSI Research Foundation's co-authorship of the FAO-WHO Risk Analysis Training Manual in early 2000's. As a core member of the International Commission on Microbiological Specifications for Foods (ICMSF), Dr. Gorris has helped ILSI SEA Region strengthened its role and capability in food safety that spearhead the branch's Food Safety Risk Assessment work in the ASEAN region since 2007. We thank Dr. Gorris for his valuable contribution to ILSI and ILSI SEA Region.
